

CONTENTS

MUSIC – MUSIC – MUSIC

Péter Bozó	The Salon as the Scene of Music and Social Life in Jacques Offenbach's Operetta M. Choufleuri restera chez lui le...	5
Zoltán Fónagy	Damsel at the Piano: Music in the Private Life of the Middle Classes in the Nineteenth Century	18
Markian Prokopovych	Empire Triumphant: Johann Strauss and Der Zigeunerbaron in the Budapest Opera House in 1905	41
Krisztina Pálóczy	'When the Brass Band Begins to Play, Now That's Something...' Brass Bands in the Hungarian Villages of the Carpathian Basin	61
Zoltán Tóth	The Thick Description of a Private Music Catalogue Compiled in the Summer of 1937 at Temesvár	86
Gyöngyi Heltai	The Crisis of 'Educational Entertainment' in 1954	131
Lóránt Péteri	Income and Emigration of Hungarian Musicians during the 1956 Crisis and after the Restoration of State Socialism	161
István Gergely Szűts	Re-Annexed Markets: The Commercial Ties of the Herend Porcelain Factory in Northern Transylvania between 1940 and 1944	186

 SOURCES AND INTERPRETATIONS

Csilla Schreck	The Home of an Operetta Prima Donna in the 1930s	210
----------------	---	-----

 FORUM

Gábor Egry	About Nations and Banks	226
István Gaucsík	The Trap of Origin or Emphasises and Shifts	234

 BOOKS

From an Authoritarian Publicity to a Totalitarian One: The Relationship Between Press and Power in the Horthy-Era Sipos Balázs: Sajtó és hatalom a Horthy-korszakban.	– Eszter Balázs	243
Heltai Gyöngyi: Az operett metamorfózisai, 1945–1956. A „kapitalista giccs”-tól a haladó „mimusjáték”-ig.	– Péter Bozó	250
Demmel József: A szlovák nemzet születése. L'udovít Štúr és a szlovák társadalom a 19. századi Magyarországon.	– Krisztián Bodnár	258
Havasréti József – K. Horváth Zsolt – Szijártó Zsolt (szerk.): A város láthatatlan mintázata. Pécs városa mint az emlékezet helye.	– István Lengvári	264
Authors		268
Contents		270
Abstracts		272